PRESENTATION

Canada Man/Canada Woman is the ultimate long-distance triathlon! It pays tribute to the first Canadians who successfully adapted to nature's harsh elements and made Quebec's forests and expansive territory their homeland and livelihood.

Canada Man/Canada Woman differs from the classic long-distance triathlon where thousands of volunteers are present to support you at every turn. As in pioneer life, you will have only yourself to rely on throughout many sections, apart from the support of your limited assistance team and your best friend. The latter will follow you throughout the marathon that will unfold in the heart of the Canadian forest.

In a nutshell:

A breathtaking course amid the Canadian forest and mountains that will push you to successively complete:

- A 3.8 km swim on Lac Mégantic, starting at dawn;
- 180 km of biking along the Route des Sommets with an elevation gain of 2500 m;
- 42 km of running along roads and trails with the ultimate finish line at the summit of Mont-Mégantic... an elevation gain of 1 200 m by the time you reach the Mont-Mégantic Observatory!

This is one of the most intense, wild, and beautiful triathlon in North America.

THE RACE COURSE

The Canada Man - Lac-Mégantic course is completed one way. The start is given in the town of Lac-Mégantic and the finish line is located at the summit of Mount Mégantic.

The total length of the race course is 226 km.

More details of the race course in the road book at the end of this document. You can look at the interactive maps on the internet site of the event: www.caxtri.com/parcours

Potential changes of the race course due to climatic conditions

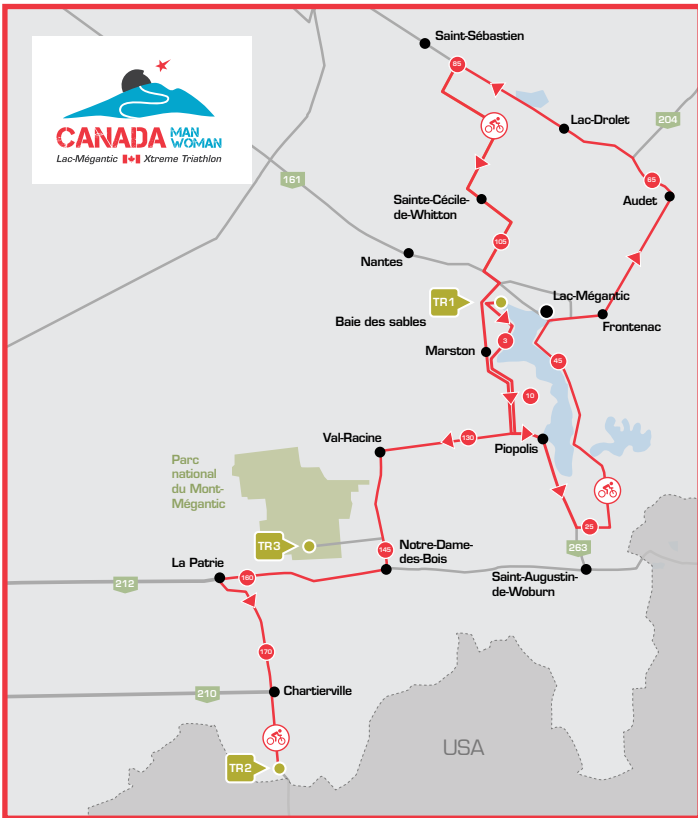

For the participants' safety, we have set alternate courses for the swimming section and for the arrival at the top of Mount Mégantic.

If we have to cancel the swimming section, the start will be given at the Baie des Sables Beach, starting with a section of 5 km trail running.

If the climatic conditions do not allow to finish the race on the top of Mount Mégantic, the racers will be redirected on an alternate course on a trail, starting from Transition 3 at km 36 of the racing course, and the arrival will be at this same transition 3.

Les règlements ci-dessous sont des spécifications de règlements existants ou des règlements propres au Canada Man / Woman.

- Racers and assistants who need to urinate/defecate must use the toilets set up along the course (see the list of available toilets on page 15).

- Participants must wear an approved helmet for the biking section.
- Bike changes are forbidden.
- A headlamp is compulsory for the running section.

PENALTIES

Race judges may impose time penalties or disqualify an athlete if he/she or his/her assistance team violates the rules. We really hope not to have to use these penalties. The Canada Man / Woman, as all other XTRI series events, aim to be a sport event where values of surpassing oneself, of cooperation and sportive spirit must stand at the first place of the aspirations/ambitions/aims.

- Minor penalties – 5 minutes
- Second penalty – 15 minutes
- Third penalty, major penalty or dangerous behaviour – Disqualification

The penalty zones are at TR 2 and TR 3.

TIME LIMITS

For safety reasons, the Canada Man organization will enforce the following time limits:

SWIMMING:	7:00 a.m. (2:30 after the start)
BIKING:	4:00 p.m. (11:30 after the start)
RUNNING:	9:00 p.m. (16 30 after the start) at TR3. Alternate course.
	20:30 p.m. (18:00 after the start) at TR3. End of race.

The race doctor can decide to prevent a participant from ascending Mont-Mégantic for medical reasons, even if he/she respects the time limits.

AVERAGE TEMPERATURE IN JULY

In July, the Mégantic region enjoys weather conditions that are favourable for a triathlon. Average temperatures are the following:

23°C - July – Average daytime temperature

12°C - July – Average nighttime temperature

18°C - July – Average water temperature – Lac Mégantic

It is very cold at the top on Mont-Mégantic. It can go down to 3 degrees Celsius at night at the top in July.

ASSISTANCE

The assistant's role is to support his/her athlete throughout the course. The assistant can help his/her athlete with refueling (biking and running sections) as well as provide mechanical assistance during the biking section.

Each participant must have at least one (1) assistant in one (1) vehicle. Note that only one vehicle is authorized per team. Recreational vehicles and trailers are forbidden. Assistants must have a mobile phone. For safety reasons, assistants must be able to communicate with the organization if required. It is forbidden for the assistants to precede or follow their racer with the car.

The vehicle must not hinder the progress of other participants. This rule will be rigorously enforced. Failure to respect it will result in the disqualification of the athlete whose assistant is at fault.

A stopped vehicle must clear the road. It must be completely to the right of the white roadside line. If there is not enough room for the vehicle to clear the white line, stopping is prohibited. Once again, failure to comply may result in disqualification.

The assistant must take back the bike at the TR2 when his athlete starts the running section.

Since the course is not entirely accessible for vehicles, there are zones where assistants will not be able to refuel their racer.

Assistant may accompany the racers by bike on some running sections until km 29 (« Wild Canada » section). In doing so, he must always respect the road safety code and check for other vehicles.

From km 29 up to TR3, it is highly recommended to be accompanied by an assistant on foot.

An assistant must accompany the athlete on foot for the last section of the marathon (last 8.5 km), for the ascension of Mount Mégantic from transition 3 (TR3) to the finish line.

Reaching the summit with an assistance vehicle will be impossible. A shuttle service will take teams back to TR3 so they can pick up their vehicle after the race. The access fees to the park and for the shuttle service is included for the racer and for one (1) assistant. It is possible to buy tickets for the access to the park and for the shuttle service at the Welcome center of Mount-Mégantic Park (Transition 3).

The assistant vehicle must be identified with the stickers provided by the organization, posted on the front and back windows of the car, and the assistant identified with his t-shirt and bracelet.

Mandatory equipment for the assistant:

- Headlamp (trail essentials)
- Spare batteries (trail essentials)
- Life saving blanket (trail essentials)
- Liquid and solid feeding gear (trail essentials)
- First Aid kit (trail essentials)

- Cell phone (on) with charge (trail essentials)
- Spare and warm clothes (windproof, polar, toque, raincoat)
- Tools and basic extra pieces for bikes

AID STATIONS

No aid stations will be present along the course. Participants and their assistant(s) must therefore plan adequate refueling strategies. During the running portion, there are sections where racers will be without their assistant(s) for several kilometres. Racers must have sufficient resources (water, food) on them throughout these sections.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

A medical team will be present along the course, at transitions, and at the finish line. An emergency telephone number will be given to assistants at the pre-race meeting. The organization reserves the right to withdraw a participant from the event based on the race doctor's clinical judgement.

Caution! Given the nature of the event, you must be as autonomous as possible. It may take the medical team a long time to reach you due to the challenging course.
